- The policy provides for constantly increasing cash surrender values.
- You are permitted to borrow money on your policy when sufficient values have accumulated.
- You may decide to have your policy on a paidup basis and no further premiums would be required. This means that at death, a fixed amount is paid.
- If sometime in the future, you are unable to pay your premiums, the values accumulated in the policy, if any, will pay any past due premium and the interest thereon. This is called the Automatic Loan Provision and there is NO CHARGE for this benefit.
